

LEARN AND EDUCATE AT THE SAME TIME!

Teachers, Students, and Parents: we want YOU to participate in our environmental education project. Let's get educating – and learning!

We invite students (and parents ;-)) to browse and play on our website <http://www.ditc-eeef.org> and, following the format of About, Did You Know? Test Your Knowledge, send in a subject you have researched and written, chosen from any of the categories listed in School Zone.

Teachers – what a great opportunity for class projects for K thru 12th graders! We publish the work done by students on our site with their first name only, age, school, State/country. This is a project that can be done in the classroom or at home with their families.

Students/Kids – if you are visiting our site, we would be delighted if you would choose something that interests you from our School Zone categories and submit a subject to help us educate others. You get to learn something in the process too, plus your work will be reviewed and published on the web!

View our Guidelines page for easy instructions on how to join in.
